Out of This World

By Nancy Levin, Director

On August 21, 2017, parts of North America experienced a total solar eclipse. We stood on the front steps of our library buildings with eclipse glasses and home-made eclipse viewers to witness the moon passing in front of the sun, and we live-streamed the event on the digital monitors at all of the branches. How exciting this was for many adults and children who had not seen such a phenomena in their lifetimes.

It is that same enthusiasm we hope to harness when we present the traveling library exhibit

Explore Space: A Cosmic Journey. The exhibit poses the questions: Where did we come from? Are we alone? What conditions are necessary to support life?

Explore Space runs from January 12 through March 9 and features research from the National Science Foundation and NASA, “discover stations” with hands-on activities, and interactive virtual activities. We’ve also planned a variety of space-related programs for all ages, from babies to folks old enough to remember when landing on the moon was just a far-off fantasy.

Heights Libraries is out of this world in many ways, so let’s explore space together! Find more details below.

STAR_Net Explore Space: A Cosmic Journey

Friday, Jan 12–Friday, Mar 9

Where did we come from and are we alone? In this interactive exhibition, take a journey through space to understand the origins of galaxies, stars, and planets, and learn what it takes to support life beyond Earth. Look for related programs marked by a ★

STAR_Net is a production of the Space Science Institute’s National Center for Interactive Learning (NCIL) in collaboration with the American Library Association, the Lunar and Planetary Institute, and the Afterschool Alliance. Major funding is provided by the National Science Foundation, NASA, and the National Institutes of Health (SEPA).

DOBAMA THEATRE

Written by Eric Coble
From the graphic novels by Tony Lee and Dan Boulwood
Directed by Nathan Motta

It’s December in London, Sherlock Holmes is missing, and a young girl’s grandmother has been abducted. Who will save the day? The Baker Street Irregulars – a band of orphans, pickpockets, inventors, and artists hired by Sherlock himself to help solve cases. But can they unravel this mystery on their own? The game’s afoot!

December 1 - 30

Written by George Brant
Directed by Alice Reagan

An ace fighter pilot’s career in the sky is cut short due to an unexpected pregnancy. Reassigned to operate military drones from a trailer outside Las Vegas, she hunts terrorists by day and returns home to her family each night. As the pressure to track a high-profile target mounts, the boundaries begin to blur between the desert in which she lives and the one she patrols half a world away.

Family Connections’ programs are designed to offer parents a variety of opportunities to enhance their parenting experience, build their confidence as parents, and provide resources for them to become the parents they strive to be. Although we know parenting can be hard, we also believe it can be fun! Play is the best way for kids to learn, grow, and develop all of the important early skills. Play is also a great way for parents to enjoy their kids!

One Community Reads:

EVICTED

JAN 15 – MAR 15

One Community Reads is a collaboration amongst the City Club of Cleveland, Playhouse Square and all nine local public library systems to create a shared reading experience for the Greater Cleveland community. This year's selection, the Pulitzer Prize-winning Evicted: Poverty and Profit in the American City by Dr. Matthew Desmond, will transform our understanding of poverty and the centrality of home. One Community Reads programming will include book discussions, film screenings and panel discussions on the topics of economic exploitation, inequality and housing – and how we might come together as a community to address the devastating problem of eviction. One Community Reads will conclude with an appearance by Matthew Desmond on March 15, 2018 at the Ohio Theater. Look for related programs marked by a
