 Heights
Libraries
Opening Doors, Opening Minds

Coventry Village | Lee Road | Noble Neighborhood | University Heights

What a Century!

By Nancy Levin, Director

In October of 2015, the last library catalog card in the United States was printed in Dublin, Ohio, by the Online Computer Library Center, conceding to the age of the online catalog, which began in the late 1970s.

It is fitting—poetic even—that the end of the card catalog occurs just as we reach our 100th birthday. It's a powerful symbol of the way libraries continue to adapt and change to serve our customers in new ways.

Heights Libraries started as the Heights High School Library in 1916, with one employee, Librarian Helen Keeler, and 1,933 books purchased with funds that tuition-paying students from other communities paid to attend the school.

One hundred years later, the Cleveland Heights-University Heights Public Library has roughly 160 employees and its collections have grown to more than 418,000 including books, CDs, DVDs, mp3s, eBooks, eReaders, and digital music and movies. Circulation hovers at 1,800,000 items annually. There are 160 public computer stations housed in four library buildings found in all corners of our school district.

Clearly, we have grown. And changed!

How do we celebrate a hundred years so full of changes and service? First, we've started preserving our past by digitizing minutes of the Board of Trustees, scrapbooks, photographs, and other memorabilia. Watch our website for these historical documents as well as interviews with former staff, board members, and other library VIPs.

We'll also have an online library timeline and slide show documenting important events in our history; special, limited edition centennial library cards; and centennial-related programs throughout the year, starting this spring with a kick-off party at our historic Coventry branch, our first building, on May 1.

Celebrate our past, and be part of our future!

This spring we're kicking off our 2016 Centennial Celebration with programs for all ages. Just look for our Centennial symbol to find centennial-related programs, and check our website for fun, informative resources like an interactive Heights Libraries timeline, interviews with Heights Libraries VIPs, and more! www.heightslibrary.org

Don't miss our ★ Centennial Kick-Off ★

SUNDAY • MAY 1 • 2 P.M.
at the Historic Coventry Village Branch

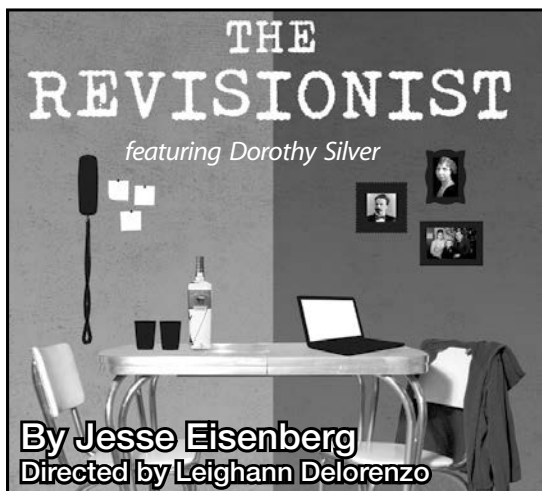

- Local author Mary Doria Russell will honor the Library with a special talk
- We will bury a time capsule, to be opened in 2066
- Plus birthday cake, local food, live music, and children's activities

Presented in partnership with the FRIENDS of Heights Libraries and the Fund for the Future of Heights Libraries.

Young writer David arrives in Poland with a crippling case of writer's block and a desire to be left alone. His seventy-five-year-old second cousin Maria welcomes him with a fervent need to connect with her distant American family. As their relationship develops, she reveals details about her postwar past that test their ideas of what it means to be a family. Leighann Delorenzo, director of last season's hit SLOWGIRL, helms this production starring renowned actor Dorothy Silver.

REGIONAL PREMIERE

March 4 – April 3, 2016

The eyes of the court are on Marie Antoinette, and nothing good can come of it. They used to love Marie just the way she was. She would delight and inspire her French subjects with extravagant haute couture. But times change, and even the most fashionable queens go out of style. How's a queen to keep her head in the middle of a revolution? In this humorous and haunting MARIE ANTOINETTE for the 21st century, idle gossip turns more insidious as a country revolts, demanding liberté, égalité, fraternité!

familyconnections1.org

Family Connections’ programs are designed to offer parents a variety of opportunities to enhance their parenting experience, build their confidence as parents, and provide resources for them to become the parents they strive to be. Although we know parenting can be hard, we also believe it can be fun! Play is the best way for kids to learn, grow, and develop all of the important early skills. Play is also a great way for parents to enjoy their kids!

Little Heights: Our Family Literacy Playroom at the Library

Enjoy our playroom while building important school readiness skills. Our carefully chosen materials give parents the perfect chance to help their child learn to count, sort, match, and become a confident learner.

Drop-In Play Sessions at Coventry School: Have fun with other families in our playroom filled with fun and interesting toys and play equipment. Run, jump, slide, and spin in our Large Muscle Room!

Baby and Me: The first year of parenthood is filled with many experiences ranging from joy to fear, from delight to frustration. This informal program encourages parents to get acquainted, share challenges and milestones, find support, and gain information from each other and staff.

Parenting Classes: Family Connections runs quarterly parenting workshops. The sessions are usually held in the evenings, and child care and a light meal are provided to make it easier for families to participate. Schedule will be posted at familyconnections1.org as soon as it becomes available.

Family School Connection: A neighborhood-based family literacy and engagement program located in all 7 elementary schools in the Cleveland Heights –University Heights School District. The program’s goals are to increase parental engagement in children’s education and school; encourage children’s literacy and school success by engaging in play-based literacy activities; help families establish routines that include increased conversation, parent child activities, educational play opportunities, and reading time; provide opportunities for parents to get to know and gain support from one another; and familiarize parents with community resources that can help them.

*Thank you to the Friends of the Heights Libraries for supporting Heights
Libraries programs!*

How do I get my child ready to read?

No child is too young for books. In fact, studies have shown that the earlier a child is exposed to books and reading, the better they will perform in school and in life.

That's why Heights Libraries offers so many free, fun, and easy ways to make books and reading part of your child's life.

In addition to storytimes and programs (pp. 5-7), we offer plenty of resources:

Play Areas to Help Little Ones Learn while They Have Fun

Our Coventry, Lee Road, and Noble branches have play areas for families with children ages 0-6 specially designed to stimulate young brains.

Cozy Spaces for Quality One-on-One Time

If you can't make it to storytime, don't worry. All of our branches have children's areas with cozy seating. Pick out a few books and have a seat with your little one for some one-on-one storytime

Take Home Books, Audiobooks, CDs, Puppets, and Puzzles

All you need is a library card to take home books, music, and even puppets to encourage creative play. Don't have a card? It's easy to get one. Stop in at any branch with a photo ID and a piece of mail with your current address to get a card instantly. It's that simple. Come see us!

Fierce First Ladies

Mon–Fri, Mar 1–31, 3:30 p.m.

This election year, we have our first former First Lady in the running for the office of President. During Women's History Month, we will celebrate by learning more about the women who have been in this unique role throughout history. We will focus on a different topic each week.

Noble Poetry Puzzle Month

Mon–Fri, Apr 1–Apr 29, 3:30 p.m.

The line. Poetry's most defining characteristic. It could take an entire day to compose a perfect one. (This is another very poetic trait.) We will use the month of April to create a line in a different way each day. In the end, we will put the puzzles together to make at least one great poem each.

Presidential Poetry

Fri, Apr 1–29, 4 p.m.

"A golden age of poetry and power/Of which this noonday's the beginning hour." So concludes the original poem Robert Frost penned for JFK's Inauguration. Learn the reason he recited an old one from memory instead and about the other four poets chosen for this honor in America's history.

May Madness: Athletes as Accidental Poets

Mon–Fri May 2–30, 3:30 p.m.

In Erratic Fire, Erratic Passion, Jeff Parker and Pasha Malla compose poems using the words of professional athletes gathered from post-game interviews, sports chatter, etc. Throughout May, we will be voting for our favorites like the littler ones did during Picture Book Madness in March.

American Letters: Athlete Announcements

Wed, May 4–25, 4 p.m.

Kobe and Jordan wrote letters that began with "Dear Basketball" as a parting gift. LeBron told us "I'm Coming Home" in Sports Illustrated. We will read these and study their careers. Sportsmanship over stats, community over celebrity. We will write our own letters to our favorite players and mail them out Week 4.

UNIVERSITY HEIGHTS

The Spot

Mon–Fri, Mar 1–May 27, 3 p.m.

Need a place after school to relax and have fun? Come to our Teen Spot.

May the 4th Be With You Party

Wed, May 4, 3 p.m.

A long time ago in a library not so far away, teens gathered to watch and celebrate the most beloved Sci-Fi series of all time. Join us for an interactive screening of the newest addition, Star Wars VII: The Force Awakens, complete with trivia, prizes, props, and food.

Babysitting Clinic

Mon, May 9, Tues, May 10, Thurs, May 12, 5 p.m.

Learn how to be an excellent babysitter. Must complete all three classes to earn a certificate. Registration begins Apr 24.

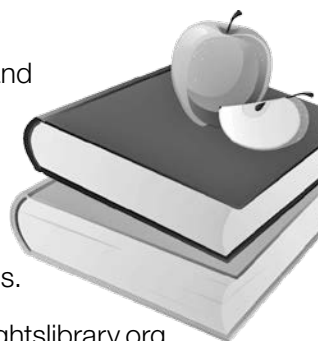

Teen Trivia Night

Mon, May 23, 6 p.m.

The school year is almost over. It's time to show off what you've learned in the most fun final you'll take. Bring a team to the University Heights branch Trivia Night to test your knowledge, eat pizza, hang out with friends, and win prizes. Must have at least two people per team to participate.

Be a Homework Helper or a Reading Buddy!

Volunteer for the Library

What kinds of things can Library volunteers do?

- Serve hungry children at the after-school snack program
- Lend a hand at special children's programs
- Grow flowers and vegetables in library gardens
- Scan photos for our digital archives
- Pass out free books from the Book Bike at community events
- Help with office work

How do I volunteer?

Fill out the volunteer application, which can be found at www.heightslibrary.org/volunteer-opportunities, or call Julia Murphy at (216) 932-3600, ext. 1350.

Volunteers under 18 need a parent or guardian signature. Volunteers over 18 will be asked to submit to a background check.
