Guest Column: Who Are the FRIENDS?

FRIENDS of the Heights Libraries is an all-volunteer, nonprofit, 501(c)(3) organization dedicated to supporting our community's incredible library system. We help fund programs and projects by raising money through used book sales, membership dues, and gifts. Items we have recently funded include the new library delivery van, the bike fix-it station, the Noble Welcome Hub, and the Teen Digital Lab. Grants to the library from our group exceeded $50,000 in 2018. You can become a FRIENDS member for as little as $10 a year, and like the famous card, membership has its privileges! Members are invited to the sneak preview nights of our Mega Book Sales and free preview nights of performances at Dobama Theatre, and receive discounts in the FRIENDS bookshop. To join, volunteer, or find out more, visit our website www.friendsheightslibraries.org. You can also get reminders of book sales and news by liking our page on Facebook, @friendsheightslibraries.

The Harvey and FRIENDS Bookshop (named for library patron and comics writer Harvey Pekar) is open whenever the Lee Road branch is open. Located on the second floor, it is stocked with items culled from the library shelves and community donations. A fill-a-bag sale is held on the first Friday of each month. For only $5 you can fill a grocery-sized bag with any selection of books, CDs, DVDs, and audio books. Our Mega Book Sale is held twice a year, taking over the first-floor meeting rooms of the Lee Road branch and featuring over 10,000 items, including special collections. Save the date for our next Mega Book Sale - Thursday May 2 (members only preview!) through Sunday, May 5.

FRIENDS of the Heights Libraries appreciate your donations of books and other media to help the ongoing sales in the bookshop. Please bring your donations to the Lee Road branch shipping dock (closed Sunday), or the Lee Road branch circulation desk, during library hours. Larger donations can be picked up if desired. To schedule a pick up, email info@friendsheightslibraries.org, or call (216) 932-3600 ext. 1234 and leave a message. All donations are tax deductible.
