- Survey went live on Monday, July 8, at 10 a.m. Closed Monday, July 29 (due to staff illness Survey Monkey links were open until Tuesday July 30, 8 a.m.).
- Shared by eBlast, website link (home page), public computers in buildings, social media, and displays in Library buildings with paper copies. Also shared by tenants and the City of CH
- As of 10 a.m. Tuesday, July 30, 1,474 people responded, minus 213 ineligible (non-residents), for a total of 1,258.
- Focus of the survey was on Library's role as owner, financial viability of the building, and possible future uses, which is why we limited it to residents/tax payers.

CPC directed their supporters to fill out the survey in specific ways, which can be seen at times in the use of identical wording, etc. We believe this interfered with the intent of the survey, which was to ask the larger tax-paying community about how they want the library to spend their tax dollars, and also ascertain current awareness of Library spending on big projects. This turned the survey into a partial referendum on whether the tenants are doing good work. We have never disputed this, but it has no bearing on the Library's finances or other resources.

Cleveland Heights & University Heights are at risk of losing the Coventry P.E.A.C.E Arts, Culture & Education Center and it's crucial for the Cleveland Heights and University Heights communities to voice their support. Our building's owner, the Cleveland Heights - University Heights Library, is currently gathering community feedback through an online survey. They have said they believe they are only hearing from those in the arts community, despite a strong turnout from Cleveland Heights, University Heights, and South Euclid at the recent public meeting.

By participating in this survey, you can demonstrate that the entire community values the Coventry P.E.A.C.E. Building and supports our vision to make it a permanent hub for arts, culture, and education. Your input can help us save this vital resource and secure a future for the nonprofits that call it home. Please take a few moments to complete the survey and make your voice heard. Together, we can show that our community stands united in support of this invaluable asset.

Complete our landlord's survey

The Library (building owner) is currently conducting a survey to collect feedback from the community on the fate of our building. Several of the question only offer bad options for answers and there is very little opportunity to show support of what already exists in the building - the Coventry P.E.A.C.E. project.

We would encourage you to check the boxes for "OTHER" and use the text fields to state the building should not be demolished and Coventry P.E.A.C.E. should be given a long-term lease and the ability to manage the building and finance its improvements.
